

PERSIA SEAT OF STRUGGLE

Great Britain and Soviet Russia Involved.

INDIA IS THE PRIZE EACH WOULD HAVE

Great Britain Fighting Back the "Red" Forces.

England and Russia Negotiate Treaties with Persia—Each Hopes To Use Country in Indian Struggle. It's Said.

New York, Feb. 15.—Persia has become the seat of a tremendous and spectacular struggle between Great Britain and Soviet Russia. India is the ultimate prize if the struggle is victorious. So many and so important have been the developments nearer home, that the United States has arrived but little of this thrilling warfare which is being waged with changes, diplomacy and even force of arms, but the result promises to have vast influence, not only in the East and the Orient, but upon world-wide affairs. Persia is the link between Soviet Russia and India. Great Britain is maintaining a big army in Persia to keep back the "Red" forces. The British have negotiated an agreement with Persia, but the Persian parliament has failed to ratify it. Soviet Russia has countered by negotiating a treaty with Persia, rich in promises.

[Copyright, 1921, by I. N. S.] Moscow.—[By Wireless to Berlin] Feb. 15.—After a long series of conferences between Machavir El Boudak, Persian minister plenipotentiary and ambassador extraordinary, and the foreign department of the Soviet government, a treaty has been drawn up between Persia and Russia. The Persian ambassador was given full authority by his government to sign it. The chief terms of the treaty may be grouped as follows:

1.—It annuls all former Russo-Persian agreements and the famous Anglo-Russian treaty, which divided Persia into two zones of influence or exploitation by British and Russian financial interests.

2.—Russia renounces all territory that the old imperial Russian government took from Persia.

3.—Russia voluntarily relinquishes all the loans due her from Persia—loans so large that the annual interest amounted to more than $5,000,000 in gold.

4.—Russia annuls the old imperial prohibition against a Persian fleet in the Persian sea.

5.—Cancellation of all the old commercial concessions taken from Persia by Czarist Russia.

6.—Russia offers to compensate Persia for damage done by the "Red" army which occupied Enzeli and other last May.

7.—Lev Mikhailovich Karakhan, assistant people's commissar for foreign affairs, in charge of the department of the East, gave the International News Service the following statement:

"The British have tried to stimulate a crisis every time Russia has made a move towards Persia, because of British encroachments on Persian rights. The object of these moves, which are circulated, is to disturb the friendly relations between Persia and her neighbors. It is a fact that the Russo-Persian treaty not only represents a complete understanding, but is a unique example of the new era of diplomacy inaugurated by Russia and based upon a sincere regard for the interests of others. All the elements of the old imperial diplomacy have been excluded.

"Russia renounces all territorial claims given by Persia. Certain provinces and districts and islands in the Persian sea will be returned to Persia. The frontier will be straightened. It is a remarkable feature of the Russo-Persian treaty that Russia renounces all the loans due her from Persia. The Czarist government, by advancing loans to Persia, endeavored to keep Persia in debt. These loans were so large that the interest was more than $5,000,000 annually, in gold. Russia maintained the right to Persia's custom duties to liquidate the interest payments. But now the loans are annulled, but Russia renounces any rights to Persian customs. Russia used to maintain a big army in Persia to control Persia's economic life. By the terms of the treaty, these troops become Persian property."

BILL CARRIES $395,000,000

House Passes Money Bill for the Navy.

NEW AMENDMENTS ARE VOTED DOWN

Provision Made To Continue Building Program.

Reduction in Size of the Marine Corps Will Be Made—Naval Force To Be Cut Down, According to Provisions.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The naval appropriations bill, carrying approximately $395,000,000, was passed by the house after it had decisively voted down an amendment which would have prevented the expenditure of any part of $90,000,000 provided for battleship construction until an international disarmament conference shall have been called by the president. The amendment, offered by Representative Brooks, was defeated 124 to 20.

The house also refused to cut the amount that would be available for work on the navy's building program during the coming fiscal year to $50,000,000, as proposed by Representative Dickinson, and by a vote of 252 to 9 defeated a motion by Representative Blanton to recommit the bill for the purpose of cutting the appropriation for construction work to $7,000,000 and of eliminating a section which prevents the use of stop watches in navy yards and arsenals.

The measure as it goes to the senate, however, carries an amendment offered by Representative Oliver that no part of the $30,000,000 carried for new craft shall be used on ships on which construction has not started or for which contracts have not been let. Chairman Kelley of the sub-committee which framed the bill agreed to this limitation, saying it would mean that work could not be started before July 1, 1922, on twelve destroyers, six fleet submarines and one transport, authorized in 1918, but not yet placed under contract.

Main Features. The bill, as far as its main features were concerned, was approved by the house practically as it was reported by the appropriations committee. Reduction of the enlisted personnel of the marine corps from approximately 27,000 to 20,000 men was agreed to without comment, as was the decrease in the enlisted strength of the navy from 143,999 to 120,000 men.

PARLIAMENT IS OPENED TODAY

King George Delivers Address in Opening.

SPEAKS OF GREAT PROBLEMS OF EMPIRE

Says Situation in Ireland Is Very Distressing.

Ropes for Peace in Ireland and India in Short Time—Speaks of Unemployed Throughout the British Empire.

London, Feb. 15.—"The situation in Ireland causes me distress," declared King George, in opening parliament, today, with a speech from the throne. "A misguided section of the Irish people persist in resorting to methods of criminal violence with the object of establishing an independent republic. Neither Irish unity nor Irish self-government can be attained by this means. Arrangements for bringing force to the government of Ireland act are advanced and I earnestly trust that in the near future a majority of people will have shown their determination to repudiate violence and work for the act. This measure confers upon them great responsibilities of self-government and provides machinery whereby Irish unity is attainable through constitutional means."

In referring to Indian unrest, the king said: "The duke of Connaught has inaugurated new councils in India. I pray that the assumption by my subjects in India of new political responsibility may secure progress for the administration and early appeasement of the political strife."

"I hope that the negotiations for a trade agreement with Russia shall be brought to a successful conclusion."

The king referred to the forthcoming London conference on German war indemnity and Turkish problems, saying he earnestly trusted they would be the means of further progress in making peace treaties effective; that they would be the means of reestablishing concord and that finally they would be the means of restoring tranquility in the Near East.

Unemployment. As to the acute unemployment situation, the king said: "A most pressing problem confronts you in unemployment and consequent world-wide restriction of trade. This may be alleviated, but it can not be cured by legislative means. This is a problem with acute and distressing consequences. Hundreds of thousands of our fellow citizens are receiving constant and anxious attention from my ministers, with the object of both reviving trade and prosperity and in the meantime, assisting those who unfortunately are unemployed."

"Estimates for the government services will reflect the determination of the government to reduce expenditures to the lowest level consistent with the well-being of the empire."

The Spanish, French, Italian and Japanese ambassadors rode to Westminster in state coaches. John W. Davis, the United States ambassador, and Herr St. Hamer, the German ambassador, rode in separate motor cars.

A tremendous throng filled all the streets between Buckingham palace and Westminster and a vast crowd was gathered about parliament building. The buildings along the route were decorated with flags. The roofs and windows were filled with spectators who cheered and waved flags and waved handkerchiefs.

The Opening. Parliament was opened with all the pomp and ceremony and glitter of pre-war days. The king was accompanied to Westminster by Queen Mary and the prince of Wales. The gallery was filled with notables, representing the empire, and all the great powers of the world, as the king, attired in purple and gold, read his speech from the gilded throne.

It was the first time that the king had personally addressed parliament on opening day since before the World War. Especial precautions had been taken to give him and the other members of the royal family every protection as they rode in state from Buckingham palace to parliament. Soldiers in red boots and bearskin shakos lined the route. Secret service men mingled with the vast crowds that filled the sidewalks. A heavy cordon of policemen surrounded parliament.

CLAIMS FRANCE GETS PROMISES

United States Not To Ask for Money.

PRESIDENT WILSON TO USE INFLUENCE

French Paper Says Wilson and House Indicate Desire To Cancel Debt of France.

Paris, Feb. 15.—"Several times, while in France, American leaders including Colonel E. M. House, promised not to ask France to repay her debt to the United States, while President Wilson promised to use his influence with the American congress to the same end," the Matin declared today. The newspaper added that it did not see how France can repay America, except in merchandise, pointing out that the loan represents merchandise brought from the United States and used by France in carrying on the war.

To Pay Debts. Washington, Feb. 15.—In order to make it possible for Great Britain and France, America's two largest debtors, to reduce in part their debts to this country, Senator Frank B. Willis suggests that negotiations be started looking toward the ending of French and English West Indian possessions to the United States.

From England the United States would obtain, under Senator Willis plan, the island of Jamaica, the Leeward Islands, the Windward Islands, the islands of the Lesser Antilles, including Trinidad in the Caribbean sea, just north of Venezuela.

From France the United States would obtain the islands of Guadeloupe and a number of smaller islands in the West Indies.

Acquisition of these islands by the United States would give this nation complete control of the West Indies and the smaller islands which extend south from the Florida Keys to the coast line of South America.

"If we are to be a great maritime nation," Senator Willis declared, "control of these islands is necessary for the United States. These islands are necessary to the United States not only from an economic standpoint, but also from a strategic standpoint."

DRY LEADERS WIN VICTORY

State Supreme Court Gives a Decision.

APPROVES FINE OF A STEUBENVILLE MAN

Result of Fight Over Sale of Liquors—Other Decisions Returned by Court.

Columbus, Feb. 15.—"Dry" leaders won a victory in state supreme court today, when the court affirmed the judgment of the Jefferson county courts approving the imposition of a $500 fine upon Abe Hoffrichter, Steubenville, for keeping a place where intoxicants were sold in violation of section 13, 196, of the general code, which provides a penalty for sale of liquors "in violation of law."

When the case was argued before the supreme court, counsel for Hoffrichter claimed these alleged sales were not made in violation of any statute.

Superintendent James A. White, of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, one of the attorneys for the state, argued, on the other hand, that the sales were made in violation of section 2, of article 15, of the state constitution and that when sales are made in violation of that part of the constitution it is not necessary to base prosecution of a criminal proceeding on any particular statute.

Is Constitutional. Columbus, Feb. 15.—Constitutionality of the act passed by the Ohio legislature providing for the abatement of houses of bad reputation, declared to be valid, was upheld, today, by the state supreme court.

The court announced that it has affirmed a similar judgement rendered by the Jefferson county courts, in the case of May Wind against the state.

The common pleas court, acting under this law, ordered her place closed permanently for immoral purposes. She appealed for a reversal of judgement, claiming that if this law was enforced as it had been in her case, it is unconstitutional because her constitutional right of trial by jury had been violated, she alleged.

SPURS SOLONS TO RUSH BILLS

Harding Urges Congress To Get Busy.

REPUBLICAN FLOOR LEADERS GET WIRES

Asked To Clear Decks of Appropriation Bills.

President-Elect Fears Legislation Held Over Might Delay Work of the Special Session—The Work Ahead.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President-Elect Warren G. Harding today threw the strength of his personal influence into a direct effort to break the legislative jam in which important pending measures have been caught. Less than three weeks of the present session remains.

From his vacation headquarters in Florida, the president-elect telegraphed, today, a request that passage of the bills appropriating funds for government needs in the next federal fiscal year be hastened to clear the way for the special session of the new congress he will inaugurate immediately after inauguration to consider the vital problems of peace and economic readjustment, for settlement of which the country is impatiently waiting.

The Republican floor leader of each house wired him that all haste possible would be exercised to complete the appropriation legislation before this congress expires, March 4.

It has been evident for weeks that the tangle into which congress had drifted, threatened much of the legislation pending, not excluding some of the appropriation bills which in the aggregate will provide for governmental expenditures of $3,500,000,000 next year.

Legislation not completed in the session in which it is introduced, dies when the session expires. The prospect was before Mr. Harding that some of the appropriation bills, passage of which is the main business of the current session, might fall, and that extra work therefore would handicap the special session at a time when the president-elect hopes to center undivided attention on the restoration of a formal status of peace, and on the tariff and internal taxation.

Wires Mondell and Lodge. Mr. Harding sent telegrams from St. Augustine to Representative Frank M. Mondell, of Wyoming, Republican floor leader of the house, and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, his party's floor leader of the upper branch.

The president-elect's telegram to Mr. Mondell read: "I hope you will not construe it as an unbecoming intrusion if I say that it would please me immensely and strengthen my hope of prompt action at the extra session of the new congress, if all appropriation bills could be cleared away at the present session. I know you will not misconstrue."

"I am exceedingly hesitant about expressing my views at the present time, but I am sure you can understand how anxious I am to have appropriation bills out of the way so that the new congress can give its entire attention to work we all know it will have to perform."

The telegram to Senator Lodge was similar. Mr. Mondell replied to Mr. Harding as follows: "I am pleased to have your telegram of the 14th relative to appropriation bills. I entirely agree with you as to the very great importance of passing all appropriation bills at this session. I believe this matter of primary importance; nothing else is so pressing, so essential. We shall work faithfully to this end and hope to make the last appropriation bill through the house by Thursday evening."

Senator Lodge replied: "A telegram received. Am in absolute agreement with you and have been laboring for passage of the appropriation bills from the beginning of the session. Am doing all in my power now in the same direction. I am very glad to get your telegram. I shall continue to make every effort to get all the appropriation bills through that are possible."

Of the more than a dozen major appropriations, twelve have been acted on so far in the house, but only five have passed the senate. Two others have been reported to the senate by committee. Conference of the two houses are engaged on one or two.

FOREIGN LOANS TO BE REFUSED

Senate Judiciary Committee Tells Houston.

CREDIT EXTENSIONS WILL BE DELAYED

Until Committee Gets Facts in Financial Situation.

Names of Government Officials Charged with Grafting in Coal Deals Demanded by the Senate Committee.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The senate judiciary committee today, informed Secretary of the Treasury Houston that it is the sense of that committee that he should make no further extensions of credit to any foreign government, or any commitments, past or present, until the committee has had an opportunity to determine all the facts surrounding foreign loans and made a report to the senate.

This action followed receipt of word from Secretary Houston that he was not prepared to appear before the committee, today, to present all data on foreign loans.

Names Demanded. Washington, Feb. 15.—Names of government officials, charged with graft in coal purchases and railroad men accused of re-selling commandeered coal, were demanded, today, by the senate reconstruction committee, from George H. Cushing, managing director of the Wheelabrator Coal traders' association, who made the accusations.

Cushing asked that he be given an opportunity to consult with his counsel before giving or refusing to give the information.

Plot Against Yacht. Washington, Feb. 15.—On the heels of rumors of a plot to blow up the presidential yacht, Mayflower, a seaman on the yacht was placed under arrest, today, the navy department announced.

Navy department officials stated that the seaman had asked permission of a boatswain to be allowed to go off duty from the Mayflower at a certain hour during the night, stating that he wished to bring a "package" aboard and intimating that he would be willing to pay a sum of money for the privilege. It was learned that he was to meet a civilian at an appointed spot in Washington.

Fortifications. Washington, Feb. 15.—A total of $8,958,917 for fortifications and coast defenses is provided in an appropriation bill reported, today, by the house appropriations committee. The amount allowed is $27,518,514 less than the estimate and $10,775,425 less than the appropriations for the current year. It is more, by $1,278,550, than allowed for fortifications in 1914, excluding the money allowed for fortifying the Panama canal.

Barred to Death. Xenia, Feb. 15.—Blanche Brittenham, six, daughter of Lewis Brittenham, died of burns received when her clothing caught fire from a store during the absence of her parents.

NEW MEASURES BEFORE SOLONS

Effort Being Made To Delay Constabulary Bill.

Chiropractors' Bill Is Also Being Held Back.

Measure To License Fishermen Is Getting Attention—Bill To Extend Terms of County Auditors Is Introduced.

Columbus, Feb. 15.—It is persistently rumored in legislative circles that when the Harding bill, providing for a state constabulary comes up to the house, this afternoon, on a question of passage, it will either be defeated or referred to a committee where it will be killed.

Some of the house members are urging that the bill be referred to the committee on agriculture, in order to avoid bitter debate. Representative Harding, however, is credited with preferring that his bill be voted upon when it is reached, as a special order at 2 p. m., but that the vote be preceded by full discussion.

Although the house health committee, today, is expected to recommend indefinite postponement of further action on the bill, it is expected that the committee's recommendation will be made, it is claimed, to defeat the committee's recommendation and have the bill placed on the calendar for a vote on the question passage.

The house, today, is expected to vote on the Alwood bill, which has passed the senate, requiring labor union over seventeen years of age to pay fifty cents each for a license, the proceeds going toward establishment of additional hospitals, re-stocking of streams, prevention of stream pollution, building of dams to protect fish in dry seasons, etc.

Representative Donahy, Mahoning county, has introduced a bill requiring all bathing beaches and swimming pools to be equipped with lifeguard towers.

Senator Pence, Highland county, has introduced a bill extending the terms of county auditors to four years, beginning with those auditors who are elected next year.

Representative Kirk, Ottawa county, introduced a bill providing that gross neglect for a year must be proved before divorce may be granted on that ground and prohibiting divorced persons from marrying within a year.

Railroad Bill. Columbus, Feb. 15.—The claim that if four railroad bills pending in the state legislature are enacted into law Ohio railroads will have to spend about $66,000,000, is made by the transportation committee of the Columbus chamber of commerce.

The board of directors of the chamber adopted a resolution opposing passage of the bills which are: By Taylor, requiring all locomotives to be equipped with ventilated cabs; by Taylor, making additional brakemen necessary on freight trains of more than forty cars; by Carson, requiring two brakemen on all passenger trains; by Reuben, providing that when two or more men are building, or repairing, cars and work to be done will take more than thirty minutes, shelter must be provided.

The transportation committee claimed most Ohio railroads are not earning operating expenses and that some are not earning payroll expenses.

ANTI-TYPHUS WORK IN FEDERAL HANDS

Increase in Price. San Francisco, California, Feb. 15.—California refiners, today, announced an increase in the wholesale price of sugar, from $7.25 to eight dollars a hundred. This is the first increase in many months, the market having fallen steadily from a high of $8.50 a hundred pounds.

STATE SCORES A POINT IN TRIAL

Court Accepts Testimony To Show Conspiracy.

SCOPE OF TESTIMONY IS MADE BROADER

Claimed Some of Detectives Are Killed at Matewan by Rifle Shots from Distance.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, West Virginia, Feb. 15.—J. H. Stafford, a clerk in the front of which the gun battle was fought, at Matewan, swore on the witness stand, today, that Sid Hatfield fired the first shot.

Stafford testified that, last September, he asked Sid Hatfield whether he, Stafford, had not better go away, so he "couldn't do Sid any good." He declared Hatfield answered in the affirmative and offered to pay the fine if one was imposed.

Stafford, who was an eye-witness to the battle, said he saw Hatfield fire the first shot.

The testimony of the two physicians was to the effect that the majority of the detectives were shot in the back, in addition to the wounds. One of the Feltz men was shot four times.

A "Death Model."

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 15.—Captain B. H. Avis, of Charleston, served as "death model" in the Matewan gun-battle trial, today.

Avis, who is conducting the taking of testimony for the state, stood between the relief map of the battle scene and the jury and posed alternately as the "body" of Albert C. Feltz and that of the other six detectives killed in the gunfight of May 19, last.

Dr. R. A. Salton, a physician who examined the detectives' bodies, described in detail the wounds he found on them. Each description he illustrated by pointing out, on Avis' body, the location of the wound, the extent of gashes torn by bullets and the points of entry and exit.

"Now, this is the body of Albert C. Feltz," Captain Avis would say, "Will you show the jury where that wound was?"

The Dr. "pawed" the attorney's face, chest, back, arms and legs often with both hands, as the jury looked on intently.

The state scored a point in the course of this examination. J. J. Conniff protested that this trial was for the murder of Albert Feltz and that description of the bodies of the other slain detectives was irrelevant. The objection was overruled upon Captain Avis' argument that the state proposes to show a conspiracy and that the deaths of all seven detectives were the result of that conspiracy.

Court Room Full.

The court-room was jammed, as usual. There were many women. Sid Hatfield, the young chief of police of Matewan, who is the principal defendant, has taken a seat at the table of counsel for the defense. He frequently whispers suggestions to Thomas West, a Williamson lawyer, who is aiding the defense.

Dr. Salton testified that some of the wounds of the detectives were caused by rifle shots.

Many questions centered about bullet wounds on top of the head of C. B. Cunningham, one of the detective victims. The state is trying to establish, as part of its conspiracy foundation, that these shots were fired from a window or roof. The defense will try to show that Cunningham was thus hit while falling as the result of the wound.

NEWARK GIRL'S STRANGE CASE

Suffers Attack of Amnesia, the Physicians Say.

WALKS MANY MILES AND FALLS EXHAUSTED

Disappears Garbed as Woman. Found Near Granville Wearing Clothing of Man.

Granville, Feb. 15.—Florence Smith, the eighteen-year-old girl whose strange disappearance from home Sunday night, which caused the police and others to search for her for eighteen hours, until she was found near Granville, tells a strange story.

Shortly after she left home at 7 o'clock, Sunday night, around for church, she passed four men on the street. She does not say the men assaulted her, but there was a feeling came over her that someone had clapped a hand over her eyes and she does not remember any more until she came to her senses, at day break, Monday, in Highwater, a village eighteen miles northwest of here. She then walked the distance back to Granville, where she fell in the road from exhaustion and was carried in a semi-conscious condition into a farmhouse and the police brought her to this city.

She was garbed in woman's clothes when she left home, but when found she was clad in a sweater, overalls and rubber boots, which she secured at the Seward farmhouse north of the city. She was traced that far and there the trail ended. There is every indication that she walked many miles during the night. Physicians say she suffered an attack of amnesia. Rest and quiet, they say, will restore her health. The girl has never been ill in her life.

SLASHES MADE IN THE APPROPRIATIONS

Coast-Defense Bill Is Completed by Committee.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Continuation of the 19-inch gun program for use in the coast defenses of the United States, Hawaii and the Panama canal for the next year is provided for in the annual appropriations bill of approximately $8,000,000. This is $27,500,000 less than was asked by the war department and compares with $18,000,000 for this year.

About $280,000,000 of unexpended balance of appropriations for fortifications during the war will be returned to the treasury under a provision in the bill.

For acquisition of the island of Tahega, of 1,370 acres, owned by the republic of Panama, in the Pacific, the bill reappropriates $108,000. This sum was made available two years ago for the taking over of this island by the United States in connection with the defenses of the Panama canal, but the matter was held up on objection of the government of Panama, and it is still the subject of diplomatic exchanges.

The war department is directed in the bill to sell not less than 2,000 of the 7,000 tractors which it has on hand for moving the big guns. These tractors, committee members said, can be used on farms.

DISAPPEARANCE OF AN AGED WOMAN

Chicago Police Denied Information by Relatives.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The disappearance of Mrs. Nancy M. Chamberlain, eighty-one years old, who has been missing since last July and the steadfast refusal of the aged woman's daughter and grand-daughter to tell anything about the case, have provided the police with a mystery they are endeavoring, today, to solve.

Mrs. Ruth Townsend, daughter of Mrs. Chamberlain and Miss Marian Townsend, grand-daughter, are being held and will be subjected to further questioning, today. Their only answer, thus far, to inquiries regarding Mrs. Chamberlain has been that "she is happy in love." What is meant by this they refuse to tell.

LARUE FARMER WALKS TO COLUMBUS, NABBED

Farm Hand Is Arrested as Vagrant—His Roll.

Aspirations of two new politicians over the tractor show one honored visitor—because he was a farmer and was interested in tractors, and because he was so determined to see the show that he walked most of the way from LaRue to Columbus, says the Ohio State Journal.

Friday evening Frank Delaney, a twenty-three-year-old farm hand at LaRue, stood on the front porch and studied the heavens to determine the weather for the next day. Delaney concluded Saturday would bring inclement weather and he and there decided to spend the day at the tractor show.

Boarding the trolley, he rode until time to change cars, but missed connections and walked the rest of the way. Arriving in Columbus, after his journey in the rain, he went to union station for a midnight lunch.

Sitting at the lunch counter, at tired in high top boots, blue jumper and overalls, heavy, red, roll-collar sweater and a slouch hat drooping wearily over his head, he presented a distressed sight.

Officers Weltzner and Jewell, recently appointed to the force, saw him. Concluding from his appearance that Delaney was a vagrant, they called the "wagon" and "sent him in."

At the police station Delaney seemed innocently dazed. "I ain't no vagrant," he sheepishly said with a creaking twang. "I just come to town to see the tractor show."

Then to show how much of a "vagrant" he was, Delaney disclosed several hundred dollars which he had with him for "show expenses," and bidding the cops "good day," left headquarters.

AN HISTORIC BIBLE FOR HARDING'S USE

George Washington Bible To Be Used in Inauguration.

Washington, Feb. 15.—One of the most important historical trophies in America was brought here to be used in connection with the inauguration of President Harding. It is the Bible on which George Washington first took the oath as president. Harding will take the oath on the same Bible and will kiss its open pages. It has not been used for any purpose since Washington was inaugurated in New York and is the property of a New York Masonic lodge.

The historical Bible is kept under lock and key in a safety deposit vault. A committee of three members of the lodge accompanied it to Washington and these three guardians will sit on the platform when Harding is inaugurated to see that no harm befalls the precious volume.

REQUIEM MASS IS SAID TODAY

For Repose of Soul of the Late Bishop Farrelly.

THOUSANDS VISIT GREAT CATHEDRAL

Friends of Many Religious Beliefs Pay Tribute to Memory of Departed.

Cleveland, Feb. 15.—Priests, nuns, parishioners and friends of many religious beliefs packed St. John's cathedral, this morning, when a solemn requiem mass was said for the repose of the soul of the late bishop of Cleveland diocese, Right Rev. John P. Farrelly.

During the solemn and impressive ceremony, all that is mortal of the churchman lay in state in Cathedral house, guarded by members of the Knights of St. John, in full uniform.

Priests, in black vestments, sang the masses for the dead and those who had come to know the prelate not only as a bishop of souls, but as a lover of his fellow man, sobbed out their grief for his passing.

At 2 o'clock, this afternoon, the body will be removed to the cathedral, where it will again lie in state until the pontifical high mass has been celebrated. Thursday morning, Archbishop William H. Moeller, of Cincinnati and the funeral sermon preached by his old friend, Bishop John B. Morris, of Little Rock, Arkansas.

As a mark of public respect to the late prelate, the city hall will be closed from 10 to 12, Thursday and city council, last night, by a resolution, unanimously adopted, called on merchants and others to close their places of business during that time.

Ten or more bishops will be present in person, or send representatives to the funeral, Thursday. Among them are: Bishop John J. Hartley, Columbus; Bishop Michael J. Hoban, Scranton; Bishop Edward D. Kelly, Grand Rapids; Bishop Dennis J. O'Connell, Richmond; Bishop Edmund J. Gibbons, Albany. A representative of Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, of New York, will also be present.

Monsignor T. C. O'Reilly, vicar general of the diocese, who has been visiting churches in Florida, arrived in Cleveland this morning. He first learned of Bishop Farrelly's death through reading it in a newspaper.

The "consulators," or bishops' council, will not select an administrator of the diocese until after the funeral services, Thursday, it has been announced.

MARBLES AND KITES, BARE-HEADED GIRLS

Now, Why Ain't Spring Here? Tweet, Tweet!

They've been playing marbles—oh, for a long time! They're flying kites, too!

And what is a surer sign of spring than to see the kids shooting marbles, or where can you get a better sign than flying kites?

Well, to be real honest I'm afraid it's a surer sign is when the girls begin to go bare-headed about the streets.

A girl was seen on the streets today without the tiniest sign of headgear, and there probably were others. The Star's close weather observer saw only one and she was in all her spring glory; he did, he sure did.

That wasn't the only thing he saw, either. A few smiling men were strolling around without overcoats, like many do, you know, in the real spring season. These overcoats men went around and around the town today just as if they didn't know that this was February, generally and popularly supposed to be coldest month in the year.

Today was the funniest day Dame Nature possibly could peddle out to the earth-bound folk. Yesterday was some fine day, too, but the sun didn't shine as brightly as it did today.

Now, everybody together, here's to February, may her fairness ever grow fairer!

ILLINOIS LOSES TEST SUIT TODAY

Interstate Commerce Commission Has Power Over State.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—The suit brought by Attorney General Brundage to test the power of the interstate commerce commission in establishing the 3.5-a-mile passenger fare rate in Illinois, was decided unfavorably for the state, today, by Federal Judges Carpenter, Judge and Baker, sitting en banc. The judges ruled, in effect, that authority of the interstate commerce commission supersedes the power of the Illinois public utilities commission in establishing rates within the state. The state asked the reestablishment of the two-cent-a-mile rate.

A formal injunction restraining state officials from interfering with railroad in charging the rates fixed by the higher commission, will be entered, today, the judges announced.

ing the conviction that Mr. Harding would evolve a disarmament program, said it was the duty of congress to let him start negotiations in that direction. "If he delays or hesitates," said Mr. Mondell, "then congress can not."
Representative Kelley took the position that the peace of the world could best be preserved if the United States and England were equally powerful on the sea. Completion of the 1918 building program, he argued, would bring the American navy to a par with Great Britain's.
Representative Britton, urging completion of the construction already authorized, said "insidious propaganda" was emanating from London in favor of disarmament.

SPIRS SOLONS TO RUSH BILLS
Some idea of the importance of the appropriations legislation is given by a statement of the amounts the bills carried when reported to the house by committee. Exact totals can not be given as the work is far from complete, but department estimates call for appropriation of well over $4,000,000,000. The appropriations committee reduced these estimates until Republican leaders hope to hold the total within $3,500,000,000.
This is the status of the appropriations bills thus far considered, with the amounts provided when the bills were reported by committee to the lower house the origin of all appropriations.
District of Columbia bill, $19,575,000 passed both houses, pension bill, $245,500,000 passed both houses, sundry civil bill, $353,277,000, passed both houses; legislative executive and judicial bill, $117,705,000, passed both houses, Indian bill, $11,241,000, passed both houses.
Postoffice bill, $473,964,000, passed house and reported to senate, diplomatic and consular bill, $8,574,000, passed house and reported to senate, agricultural bill, $75,547,000, has passed house, river and harbors bill, $15,250,000, passed house; army bill, $328,861,000, passed house; first deficiency bill, $292,293,000, passed house; naval bill, $395,504,000, passed house.
The fortifications bill is to come up in the house today. That clears the way in the lower branch for the last appropriations measure, the general deficiency bill, which usually is considered at the end of a session.

Chieftains Gather.
St. Augustine, Florida, Feb. 15.—The political chieftains of the Republican party are gathering at this southern retreat of President-Elect Harding, this week, for what probably will be the last major conference prior to March 4. Will H. Hays, the national chairman, arrived last night and was closeted with the president-elect until a late hour. Harry M. Daugherty will come to St. Augustine, Wednesday.
The status of both Hays and Daugherty as cabinet possibilities may also be settled this week.
Mr. Harding's inaugural plans are still more or less unsettled, aside from his determination that there will be no elaborate display or ostentation. A report published in a Sunday newspaper that President Wilson had written President-Elect Harding a letter of inquiry about riding to the capital, March 4, and that this letter had been ignored by the president-elect, was emphatically denied by Harding headquarters here, today. There has been no correspondence of any sort between the president and Mr. Harding on this or any other subject. It was stated positively.
The next president is being deluged with advice and recommendations concerning the secretaryship of labor, for which there are several candidates. James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh, supreme dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose, who is mentioned as a prominent candidate for the post, probably will come to St. Augustine, the last of this week.
The president-elect disposed of a miscellaneous batch of appointments and found time to do considerable work on correspondence. One of his companions in his golf game was Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, whom he has been urged to appoint as secretary of the treasury.
The president-elect informed Representative Longworth, of Ohio, that he did not believe he should be granted exemption from paying an income tax on his presidential salary.
Mr. Harding wrote Representative Longworth in reply to a recent letter seeking his opinion as to what action the house ways and means committee, of which the Ohio representative is a member, should take on a bill recently introduced to exempt the president from the income tax levy. Under the present revenue law the tax on the president's salary amounts to $18,000. President Wilson, however, was exempted from paying the tax under a decision of the United States supreme court, holding that since the chief executive and federal judges assumed office prior to the enactment of the present revenue law they were not subject to the tax.

King George and the queen rode in the royal coach, drawn by six black horses.
The prince of Wales did not ride with his parents. He was in a separate carriage, having gone to parliament building from his own official residence—York house—instead of Buckingham palace. The royal family were received at the entrance of parliament building with elaborate ceremonies and conducted to the robing room. After the royal vestments had been doctored, the king took his place upon the throne with the queen seated at his left and the prince of Wales at his right.

"The islands are not worth this sum to the United States," he declared, "but they are worth quite a sum of money. I would be willing for congress to authorize a liberal allowance for their acquisition. They could be made valuable dependencies of the United States."
Senator Willis is unalterably opposed to any suggestion of a cancellation of the foreign debt.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED LAST NIGHT

By Local Federated Council of Jewish Women.

INTERESTING PROGRAM: MANY GUESTS THERE

Rabbi I. Philo, of Youngstown, Speaks on the Religion of Abraham Lincoln.

The local Council of Jewish Women, one of the federated clubs of the city, celebrated its silver anniversary Monday evening by entertaining its sister organizations of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs and the federation associate members at the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A.

An exceedingly interesting program of splendid music and talks was given, to the delight of every one in the large audience, the auditorium being well filled with women who had accepted of the hospitality extended them by the members of the council.

Mrs. Samuel G. Rosenberg, president of the council, presided and gave pleasing words of greeting, after which Mrs. V. E. Dombough favored the company with a very enjoyable number, playing "A Caprice from the French Suite," by Coultidge-Taylor.

A beautiful tribute to Mrs. Frank H. King gave a beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Flora Marx Kleinmaler, founder of the Local Council of Jewish Women, who died just a year ago Sunday, the day before the twenty-fourth anniversary of the order she founded and of which she was president from the time of its organization until her death. Mrs. Kleinmaler served as vice president of the Marion Federation of Women's clubs during the year Mrs. King was its president.

After a beautifully sung solo, "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee," by Mrs. George G. Kleinmaler, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Dombough, Mrs. Rosenberg introduced Rabbi I. Philo, of Youngstown, who gave a most able lecture on "The Religion of Abraham Lincoln." The rabbi is a very forceful speaker and he was heard with interest. After he had finished Mrs. Kleinmaler again delighted the audience with her sweet voice, singing "To One I Love" by Saar, "Curly Headed Baby" by Clutsum and "You Dear and I" by Clark.

A social hour followed and the council ladies served. The favors were small red hearts in keeping with St. Valentine's day.

The local council was organized by Mrs. S. G. Kleinmaler February 14, 1896, with eleven charter members. It has since organized a Jewish Sabbath school, a council sewing circle and Mrs. George G. Kleinmaler has recently organized a council reading circle. The local council is affiliated with the National Council of Jewish Women and the Marion Federation of Women's clubs and its aim is to live up to its motto which is "Faith and Humanity." It has lost but three members since its organization. Mrs. S. Oppenheimer, Jr., Mrs. R. M. Vogel and Mrs. S. G. Kleinmaler. The council at present has fifteen resident members and in the spring expects a number of non-resident members to join it. It is interested in charitable, philanthropic and civic work and its meetings are held monthly.

In Tune with Infinite. After expressing himself as being very glad to be here on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the local council, Rabbi Philo opened his talk with a splendid church, confessed no sectarian creed, ham Lincoln. Lincoln, he said, had a soul in tune with the soul of the infinite. He said the mirrors of Lincoln's soul reflected the divine spirit and his mind ran clear as sparkling waters, heaven and earth, justice and mercy kissed themselves in his nature.

"Abraham Lincoln is the noblest religious personality and genius America has produced," said the speaker. "To understand Lincoln we must know his religion. Lincoln's religion dominated his every thought and utterance. His life is the noblest chapter in the history of America. He belonged to no church, confessed no sectarian creed. His religion was a kind of poetry in his nature. Lincoln said 'I know there is a God and He hates slavery and injustice. I know I am right because liberty is right.'"

He said a religion. "Lincoln was not a sectarian, but he had a religion in the highest sense. His God was a God of righteousness, liberty and love and he believed this God directed the lives of individuals. He believed that a house divided against itself could not live. The one great thing in his life was to preserve the union and perpetuate it on the principle of liberty and justice, to make it one nation undivided, one great commonwealth consecrated to one ideal."

Rabbi Philo said Abraham Lincoln went forth to destroy false idols in this country, among them idols of race prejudice. He said Lincoln did not believe there could be a God of liberty on Sunday and of slavery in every other day. Lincoln believed that God had one standard of treatment for the blacks and whites and this single standard was what Lincoln demanded. He demanded a single standard of morality alike for all; one religion and that religion the religion of justice and mercy. Lincoln had an unshakable faith in the democracy, but he knew it could not continue with a double standard of morality to be demanded a single standard.

False Gods Still Remain. "We, the people of this day must destroy the false gods that still remain," said the speaker. "This nation can not long endure half dishonest and half honest; half concerned with petty politics and the other half given over to right government. Lincoln said this nation should be governed for and by the people not for and by politicians. Never before was the political life of this nation in greater need of Lincoln's religion than today. We are passing through a critical period and need the steady strength of Lincoln's warm heartedness. If this union is to continue the common people must see to it."

Lincoln's insistence on a single standard of morality for all Americans comes to none with a stronger appeal than to the business man. "A house divided against itself can not stand." We can not have a double standard of morality for the inside and outside of the counter in business.

Lincoln Needed. "By no institution should Lincoln's religion be welcome more than in the sacred institution we call home. A house divided against itself can not stand. I fear the American home is tolerating one standard of morality within and another standard without. One standard of morality for father and son and another for wife and daughter."

"What the nation today needs is Lincoln. It needs many Lincolns and to have Lincolns we need the right kind of homes and the right kind of mothers. Not all that man, literature, science and philosophy may accomplish can so add to the wealth and glory of a nation as one good mother in the holy of holies, the home. It is still true that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the nation." I can say with Lincoln "all that I am I owe to the blessed influence of my mother." I appeal to you as mothers to save this nation.

The challenge also comes to the church. A church can not be divided against itself. There can not be one kind of treatment for the Jews and Catholics and another for the Protestants.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Slogan Is Adopted. The slogan adopted for the Newlin meetings at the First Presbyterian church, "The old, old Gospel in the new Newlin way," will indicate the outstanding characteristic of the entire campaign. Professor Bonney arrived today from St. Louis and will lead the big informal song service this evening. The theme of Dr. Newlin's opening sermon Wednesday evening will be "Choosing an Objective."

The various committees have their work well in hand, and unless all signs fail the evangelist will be greeted by a capacity audience at the opening service. The men's meeting and women's meeting committees, headed by Bryon E. Wilson and Mrs. Lewis Uhl, are preparing for large audiences of men and women next Sunday afternoon. The men's meeting will be at 2:30 in the First Presbyterian church and the women's meeting will be at 3 o'clock in the Prospect Street M. E. church. Dr. Newlin will address both meetings. His subject for men will be "Honey for the Honeycomb." Following this address Professor Bonney will lead the men in a closing song service, while Dr. Newlin speaks to the women on the subject, "Polished Corner Stones."

The finance committee announces that practically all local expenses of the campaign have been provided for by voluntary subscriptions, thus making unnecessary the taking of offerings during the meetings. All the evening meetings will begin at 7:30. It is probable that there will be services on Saturday evenings at the same hour. Dr. Newlin reports that the interest and attendance in other places have been such as to warrant holding the services every evening without a break.

Baptist Ministerial Association. The members of the Baptist Ministerial association, of the Marion Baptist association, met Monday afternoon at the Baptist church at Prospect. There was a good attendance and a musical program was enjoyed. Rev. A. W. Littrell, of Columbus, who is conducting revival services at Prospect and his singer, D. L. Moody, sang a duet, after which Mr. Moody and Wiley S. Young contributed a duet. Mr. Young and Mr. Moody each sang a solo and Rev. Mr. Brown, of Morral, and Mr. Young sang a duet.

Frances Willard W. C. T. U. The following is the program for the Frances Willard Memorial to be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First United Brethren church by the members of the W. C. T. U.:

Song, congregation. Devotionals, Mrs. Frank Berry. Song, congregation. "The Blessings of Receiving," Mrs. Fred Cranmer. Dividends from Investments in the Frances E. Willard Memorial Fund, Miss Minnie Hoover.

Either the groundhog was badly fooled or the robins are going to be. Make your bets.

We have often wondered if the pay of the leaders goes on just the same when a strike is on.

There's not the slightest question about the efficacy of the Kansas strike law, provided it will work.

John Hays Hammond, who should pass without question as an authority, says it will do no good for America to help Europe till Europe begins to help herself. If John isn't careful, somebody will be calling him a hopeless reactionary, or something like that.

BEING WATCHED WITH INTEREST.

Alexander Howat, leader of the coal miners of Kansas, who defied both federal and state authorities in the coal strike of a year ago, has been arrested under the Kansas law on a charge of ordering a strike of miners in contravention of the statute.

The Kansas law not only forbids the strike of workers engaged in any public utility, but requires that employers shall continue to give employment to "skilled workers" during periods of depression. The leader of the miners has challenged the right of the state to forbid strikes and says he will fight it in the courts.

While the Kansas law permits the organization of workers for the purpose of collective bargaining, it also requires that the organization shall incorporate, so that it may sue and be sued in the courts of the state. The law provides that the courts may compel adherence to bargains made between employers and employees.

Just how far will the supreme court of the United States approve the paternalism involved in the law passed by Kansas legislators and which has now been operative for some months? What are the "rights" of capital and labor after all and to what extent must both sides yield to the interests of the general public?

The answers to these questions, as they are developed through the legal processes involved in the Howat case, will be awaited with great interest by large numbers of persons throughout the United States. If the Kansas law is upheld by the higher courts, it will provide a precedent for legislation affecting capital and labor in other states.

NOT UNFRIENDLY TO THE RUSSIANS.

In two letters which Assistant Secretary of State Davis has written to the National Civic Federation he makes it plain that the United States is not interfering with trade between this country and soviet Russia, and he condemns the attempts of parlor Bolsheviks to misrepresent the attitude of the government. Efforts have been made by communists and other sympathizers of the Bolshevik regime to show that the United States is working great hardships on the Russian people by refusing to permit the shipment of relief supplies to Russia. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Secretary Davis points out that Russian relief work in the United States lacks the money necessary to purchase supplies for the needy in Russia, but that the government is ready at all times to use the means available to expedite shipments to Russia. If there is any hindrance it is from the soviet government of Russia.

The United States has never been at war with Russia, and American troops sent into Northern Russia went to protect allied interests against Germany. The masses of American people have always been friendly toward the Russian people, but they can not assume a friendship toward the soviet government, which has done so much to bring Russia into her present distress. It is time to give denial to the charge that this country is doing anything to cause further suffering to the innocent people of Russia.

SLEEP ON, BRAVE BOYS.

[Della M. Sampson.]
 Sleep on, Brave Boys, sleep on!
 Far from the scenes of strife,
 At length you've found a place,
 In your own, your native land,
 The land you died to save—
 Sleep on, sleep on!

Sleep on, Brave Boys, sleep on!
 Beneath the home-land skies,
 The land that gave you birth
 Enfold you now to rest
 In your own, your native earth—
 Sleep on, sleep on!

Sleep on, Brave Boys, sleep on!
 From friends and kin and home,
 With none to shed a tear,
 You died alone—far, far,
 From scenes you held most dear
 Sleep on, sleep on!

Sleep on, Brave Boys, sleep on!
 New friends and home are near
 You'll sleep the sweetest, too,
 And their hearts be comforted
 With your resting-place in view—
 Sleep on, sleep on!

Sleep on, Brave Boys, sleep on!
 No more the fears of war,
 Nor the throat-throats of fear,
 With their far-fung battle lines
 Shall break your sweet repose—
 Sleep on, sleep on!

Sleep on, Brave Boys, sleep on!
 'Tis all your land can do,
 Just make for you a grave
 And lay you down to rest
 Where the "Stars and Stripes" still wave—
 Sleep on, sleep on!

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Ball Naylor]

SEA POWER.

February 9, the senate naval committee of the United States filed a report in regard to our present naval needs. Replying to the Borah resolution—which is intended to limit our naval construction radically—the report says:

"It is not practical and is not a sound policy to suspend naval construction for a period of six months, nor at all."

Then the report proceeds:

"In view of the importance of sea power to the United States and the fact that without it we would be at the mercy of other nations, it is the opinion of your committee that this country should maintain a navy at least equal to that of any other power. The lessons of history teach, with indisputable truth, that we can not afford to depend for the maintenance of our rights and the defense of the lives and commerce of our citizens upon the mercy, generosity or good-will of other powers with rival or conflicting interests and ambitions."

"It is the opinion of this committee that the United States should have under its control a sufficient force to protect and preserve both its material possessions, the policies it has established, the lives and rights of its citizens, and the principles upon which its government is founded. For these reasons we are of the opinion that there should be no suspension of the present building program of the navy, which, as at present laid out, at the most, only aims at equality with any other power upon the sea."

Is there anything wrong about that report? Does it ask for needless extravagance? Should we follow it, would we provide for more than our protection, for the security of our interests? Does it aim to do more than to assure us of national safety and governmental independence? Is it foreign to our principles? Is it in conflict with our moral ideals? Doesn't it embody a safe and sane policy? Doesn't it square with our past experiences? Does it indicate any marked departure from our former precepts or policies? "As Egypt does not on the clouds rely, But to the Nile owes more than to the sky; So what our earth and what our heaven denies Our ever constant friend, the sea, supplies."

Commerce follows the flag.
 And the navy of a nation carries the flag of that nation.

We need a big navy—a navy second to none on earth.

We need it—not for offensive purposes, but for defensive purposes.

America is the financial center of the world today.

America can be, and should be, the commercial center of the world.

But to be the commercial center of the world, America needs a great merchant marine; and to maintain and protect a great merchant marine, America must have a great navy.

And it will pay—pay all the costs, many times over.

What the American people need most right now is vision: vision to see the present as it is; vision to glimpse the future as it will be. Let's have a navy commensurate with our national safety and honor, commensurate with our commercial needs and aspirations!

My great-great granddad, in grain or hay,
 With the sickle could cut half an acre a day.
 My great granddad, I've heard folks say,
 With the scythe could cut an acre a day.
 And my granddad—well, he thought it play
 With the cradle to harvest three acres a day.
 My dad, with a horse-power binder—Yea,
 My dad could cut ten acres a day.

MRS. JOSEPH CONNORS
WELL KNOWN LIMA LADY
HIGHLY ENDORSES
THE NUXITE TONIC

SAYS SHE HAS NOT BEEN FEELING WELL FOR SOME TIME

"It certainly is wonderful how quick the right medicine will get a person to feel right again," said Mrs. Joseph Connors, who lives at 504 Atlantic street, Lima, Ohio, while discussing the merits of Nuxite. When asked if she was willing for her statement regarding Nuxite to be made public, Mrs. Connors said, "Yes, indeed, it is a pleasure to tell the people of Marion what Nuxite has done to me. I think Nuxite is one of the best medicines I have ever found. If I had not taken Nuxite I believe I would still be a sick woman, as I had just tried everything and I am glad to make a statement that may be of some benefit to others who are trying to find a relief."

"I was operated on for tumor and since been feeling at times very weak and nervous. Could not rest very well at night, my system was all run down, no energy or ambition to perform household duties. My appetite was very poor, was constipated, bloating of the stomach, and never knew what a well day was, had pains in the small of my back and was dizzy at times."

"I had been reading the testimonials of Nuxite for some time and as some of them were given by people of my acquaintance I concluded to try Nuxite myself. Well it just seemed to suit my case exactly and so differently from other medicines I have used. By the time my first bottle was gone my appetite was good, gas stopped forming in my stomach. I am now enjoying better health than I have for some time, in fact I am feeling unusually strong. All the praise, thanks and gratitude for this wonderful change in my condition belongs to Nuxite. If everybody knew its value as I do no home would be without it." Nuxite is explained by W. R. Cooper at Schmidt's Drug Store, Marion, Ohio. —Adv.

MESSAGE FROM GREAT BEYOND

Spirit of Thomas Bradford Reported in Communication.

SPIRIT DECLARES VEIL IS BROKEN

Able To Reach Detroit Woman Chosen by Late Suicide To Receive Message.

(Copyright, 1921, by I. N. S.)
Detroit, Feb. 15.—Out of the great beyond, a message has come from the spirit of Thomas

Bradford, according to a remarkable statement, Monday, of Mrs. Ruth Starkweather Doran, the woman the adventurer had chosen as the agency through whom to talk after death. He committed suicide here, last week. The reported message was received, Saturday night, by Mrs. Doran.

"I am Professor Flynn—Thomas Lynn Bradford—who speaks to you from the beyond," Mrs. Doran's message reads. "I have broken through the veil, with the aid of the many interested persons who are helping, tonight, to prove the reality of communication from the regions beyond the earth. The help of the living has greatly assisted the return."

"I simply went to sleep. I woke up and at first, did not realize I had passed on. I find no great change apparent. I expected things to be much different. They are not. Human forms are retained in outline, but not the physical."

"I have not traveled far. I am still much in the darkness. I see many persons. They appear natural. I recognize your fear and grief over the possibility that this adventure has given you, but I am to help you bear it. Do not bother about it."

Feeling of Lightness.

"There is a lightness of responsibility here unlike in life. One feels full of rapture and happiness. Persons of like natures associate. I am associated with other investigators, like myself. I do not regret my act. I was a misfit on earth. I shall continue—am continuing—my investigations."

"My present life is but the first of a series. I am still investigating the future plane, regarding which we in this plane are as ignorant as are earthly beings of the life just beyond human life."

During the hours of 9 and 10, spiritualists and theosophists throughout Detroit were holding a "concentration party." By prearrangement, all of the faith concentrated their thoughts that hour upon Bradford and Mrs. Doran for the purpose of assisting in the transmission of the message.

Mrs. Doran swears to the authenticity of the communication. She was not a spiritualist or theosophist before and she was not skeptical—she was "open minded."

But she believes in spiritism now. She invites investigation of her experience by responsible individuals or organizations.

FROM OUR READERS

Let's Forget 1920.

Editor Star—I was much interested in your editorial and the following paragraph: "American farmers have good business sense, and when they get over the disappointment caused by what they choose to call a little more than their share of the national slump, they will take heart and again demonstrate that they are willing to let the law of average operate in their case as it does in industry and business."

That covers the whole situation, and is well said. You are right; the average farmer possesses good sense, and in point of intelligence will compare favorably with that of any group of business men. But you have heard of the "little drops of water makes a mighty ocean," and when impractical theories are constantly drilled into the farmer and such false theories, supplemented by the price and agricultural journals, so it to be wondered that the balance wheel becomes a little wobbly and he sees visions of gold?

As farmers we are facing losses so are thousands of others but we are meeting the situation with far less dignity than those who find themselves in similar circumstances. We are simply monkeying with a buzz-saw when we attempt to adopt some new doctrine in the place of the law of average, and the attempt to circumvent the same is like lifting one's self by the bootstraps.

From the birth of Christ to the death of the devil, the farmer has been exploited. He has more volunteer advisers, and self-constituted guardians than any business on earth, notwithstanding the hundreds of millions of dollars being spent on agriculture, the law of averages is doing business at the same old stand. Early education and experiments along agriculture lines, were necessary and essential, but the time has arrived when the cobwebs should be removed, and a little subtraction made instead of the ever-growing addition.

Let us cease to be objects of charity and arise above the clamor of the agricultural quack, turn our backs on the year of 1920, farm better, save more and by all means get the habit of doing our own thinking.

A Man's Pie

Fresh—Delicious—Try it now

Just phone to your grocer or bake shop and say, "Send a Sun-Maid Raisin Pie," or make one at home according to the recipe below. You'll get the pie that men like best because of its flavor and nourishment.

The raisins are Sun-Maids, plump and tender. The pie is baked so the juice forms a luscious sauce.

It's a man's pie—and a woman's, too, because it is delicious and easy to prepare. Healthful, too, for raisins are nutritious. Rich in assimilable organic iron, which brings the tint of roses to women's and children's cheeks. Eat raisins daily in some delicious form and you'll get all the iron you need.

STUDYING UP ON PUBLIC FRANCHISES IS FAVORED

Sells' Proposal Meets with Approval of Council.

RESIDENTS SHOULD TAKE UP MATTERS WITH COUNCIL

Much Business Transacted at Meeting of Council Last Night.

At a regular meeting of the city council, Monday night, Member Pearl H. Sells offered a suggestion which the other councilmen favored and which, it is expected, will meet with the general approval of citizens. He introduced the idea of the residents taking up with their ward councilmen and councilmen-at-large proposals in regard to the extension of the city street car lines and also of the water mains on various streets.

The franchisees of these companies are to expire within a few years and the object of the council is to determine what the people want that would be within reason so that the same can be brought up before new franchisees are granted.

More New Lights.
A resolution was adopted authorizing the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric company to install lights as follows:
One on north Prospect street between Klerx avenue and the Garden City pike; one on Holmes place between Garden and Orchard streets; one at the corner of Charles and Center streets; one at the corner of Chambers and Broad streets; one at the corner of Blaine and Bellefontaine avenues; one on south Prospect street between Walnut and Superior streets; one at the intersection of the north and south alley, between Main and State streets, with the alley running east and west between Farming and George streets; two lights on north Prospect street between Mark and Klerx and to remove the arc light at Klerx and replace the same with a bulb light; one light on Mark street between State and Park streets; one light on Farming street between State and Park streets; one light on Park street between Short and Patton streets; four lights on Toland avenue, one to be located at the curb, one at Gay street, one at Meadow street and one at Blake avenue; one light at the corner of Decatur and Adams streets.

An ordinance was adopted providing for a bond issue of $5,000 for the purpose of improving the parks of the city for the coming summer. Raymond Gay, an infant, by Homer D. Swisher, through Attorney L. E. Myers, asked council for damages in the sum of $38 for two automobile tires which he claims were ruined the evening of February 6 as a result of his driving into an excavation on north State street. He claimed there were no lights or barriers to warn or prevent him from driving into the opening which was nine inches deep. This was referred to the city solicitor.

Church Street Paving.
Attorney L. E. Myers asked that council take some action on the petition to have east Church street from the end of the present paving to Kensington place. A resolution for this improvement was once adopted by council and was vetoed by the mayor with several other paving resolutions because of the high cost of material and labor. He was informed that the resolution would be brought up at the next meeting.

Two more remonstrances were received against the construction of sewers on north State street, Elk and Hughes avenues, and these were referred to the sewer committee.

The adoption followed three readings of the ordinance to proceed with the construction of a sanitary sewer, storm water and cellar drain on May, Senate and Meadow streets. Referred to Committee.

A petition for a sanitary and storm sewer on Owen street, from Oak street to the first alley east of Leader street and then north to Chestnut street, was referred to the sewer committee.

And Still More.
One at the corner of Decatur and Van Buren streets; one at the corner of Decatur and Fairground streets; one on Decatur street between Adams and Van Buren; one on Decatur between Adams and Fairground; one light on Delaware avenue at the east drive to the Marion City hospital; one on Chambers street between Broad street and Keener avenue; two on Chambers street south of Broad street; to remove the arc light at the corner of Church and Charles streets and replace the same with a bulb light; one light at the corner of St. Vernon avenue and Elmwood drive; one light at the corner of Bellefontaine avenue and Miami street; one light on Pennsylvania avenue between Church street and Indiana avenue and to move one light away from trees.

A resolution was adopted accepting the Vernon Heights first addition to the city in the name of R. T. Lewis, George B. Knapp and others. The addition consists of a sub-division of a tract in the northeast section of the city.

Improvement Mt. Vernon Avenue.
Following three readings council adopted a resolution to improve Mt. Vernon avenue by paving the roadway from Grand avenue intersection to the east line of Vernon Heights addition and then south on Vernon Heights boulevard to the south end of the addition. Resolutions for the construction of five-foot sidewalk sidewalks from Grand avenue to the south end of the addition on Vernon Heights boulevard, and for sanitary and storm sewers and cellar drains over the same territory, were given three readings and adopted.

The report of Mayor T. E. Andrews for the month of January showed that he collected $150 in fines in municipal cases during the month. It was accepted and placed on file.

A resolution was adopted providing for the construction of four-foot sidewalk sidewalks on the east side of Cheney avenue from the south line of lot No. 7411 to Osgood street.

As the session was quite lengthy and a number of matters require early consideration by the council, adjournment was taken to Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. F. Bull, who underwent an operation at Grant hospital, Columbus, Monday, is doing very nicely.
